[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Appleton, Wis., June 12.—Today the fiftieth anniversary of the first graduating class of Lawrence. Years have passed since the first class of students presented their old school which has now grown to wonderful proportions in comparison with the time at which they attended. Literary societies held a reunion this morning, and at 2 this afternoon alumni gathered on the campus. Speeches flowed freely. Rev. and Mrs. Henry Colman, Milwaukee, who met and wooed at Lawrence while members of the first class, were among those present. With its peculiar pathos, the scene was yet one of gaiety. There were only seven in the first class, and about ten times as many this year. One of the first class is dead. Only the Colmans live in Wisconsin now.

SOCIALIST FORCES CONTROL CONGRESS

New Austrian Parliament Convenes with Changed Personnel—Will Remain Obstructive Body.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Vienna, June 12.—The new Austrian parliament, the lower house of which was elected for the first time by universal suffrage, assembled for its initial session today. Owing to the changed condition of affairs the developments of the session will be followed with keen interest not only in Austria-Hungary, but throughout Europe. It is predicted that the parliament will now become a practical working body, not an obstructive one as heretofore. In the past it has been dominated by the Germans, largely on racial lines, but the success of the socialists at the recent election has wiped out the racial lines and substituted socialism and clericalism as the lines of cleavage. It is generally conceded that the change will work for the general good.

Dunning of Columbia university.

Gray, son of Judge John Clinton Gray, took place in the fashionable St. Bartholomew's church. The wedding was a notable incident socially, for the guest list included the most prominent names of New York and Newport society. The bride's gown was of cream duchess satin, cut in long simple lines, and en train. Flounces of rose point lace formed the trimming and she wore a bridal veil of the same material. The bride had but one attendant, her cousin, Miss Janet Fish. Following the church ceremony there was a large reception at the home of the bride's parents in East Seventy-eighth street. After their wedding tour the bride couple will take a home on Long Island for the coming autumn and winter.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE ON CHARITIES AND CORRECTION

Secretary Taft, Senator Beveridge And Archbishop Ireland Among The Speakers.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Minneapolis, Minn., June 12.—With Senator Beveridge of Indiana, Secretary of War Taft, Archbishop Ireland and a long list of other prominent speakers, with scores of city officials, sociologists, educators and others, participating in the wide range of discussion which make up the week's program, considerable public interest attaches to the thirty-fourth annual session of the National Conference of Charities and Correction, which begins in Minneapolis this evening. This conference has no duplicate in the world. Prison reformers, settlement workers, district nurses, charitable visitors, superintendents of insane asylums, reformatories and the like, gather once a year from all parts of the country to discuss their work from the standpoint of the needs of the American community.

The program arranged for the formal opening in the Auditorium this evening provides for an invocation by Bishop Edsall, addresses of welcome by Governor Johnson and others, the annual address of President Amos W. Butler of Indianapolis, and the address of Senator Beveridge, which will be the feature of the session. The Indiana Senator has chosen for his subject, "Child Labor in the United States."

The program for the conference this year is regarded as the best ever arranged for the annual meeting. It includes ten general sessions and nineteen sectional meetings. The latter will be devoted largely to the discussion of the reports prepared by the various committees.

The committee on state supervision of charitable and correctional agencies has prepared a report dealing specifically with the inadequacy of much of the present supervision. The committee on needy families, their homes and neighborhoods, will take up different phases of organized charity work.

The committee on promotion of health in home school and factory will conduct three symposiums on health in the school, led by Dr. S. A. Knopf, of New York City, on health in the factory, by Miss Marie Jamme, of the Minneapolis Visiting Nurses' association, and on health in the home, by Sherman C. Kingsley, of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society.

Dr. Owen Copp of Massachusetts, chairman of the committee on the blind, deaf, feeble-minded, epileptic and the physically deformed, will be exhaustively considered by the committee on defectives. The chairman of this committee is Dr. J. M. Burdock, of the Western Pennsylvania Institution for Feeble-Minded.

The committee on children will be addressed by John Temple Graves, of Georgia, Prof. C. Evans of Boston and Henry S. Curtis, secretary of the Playground Association of America. The chairman of the committee is George L. Schenck, of Louisville.

The committee on prison and police administration has for its chairman Joseph F. Scott, superintendent of the reformatory at Elmira, N. Y., the foremost institution of its kind in the world. Papers prepared by Chief of Police Sylvester of Washington, D. C., Rev. Harris R. Cooley of Cleveland, and Superintendent Wolfer of the Minnesota state prison will be read at the meeting of this committee.

On Sunday afternoon there will be an open mass meeting in the Auditorium, at which the annual conference sermon will be preached by Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul.

SENATOR MORGAN DIED IN WASHINGTON LAST NIGHT

Veteran Of The United States Senate Passed Away After Long And Glorious Career.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., June 12.—United States Senator John T. Morgan of Alabama, died here at 11:15 last night. John Tyler Morgan was born in Athens, Tenn., June 20, 1824, and was the oldest member of the United States Senate to die. He was elected to the Alabama legislature in 1850, and was re-elected in 1852, 1853, 1854, 1855, and 1856. He had represented the State of Alabama in the United States Senate since 1877, having been unanimously elected to his sixth term in 1907.

With his parents he removed from his native state of Tennessee to Alabama when nine years of age, and it was in Alabama that he received his education. He read law and was admitted to the bar in 1845. He engaged actively in the practice until elected to the senate.

In 1860 Senator Morgan was a presidential elector and voted for Breckinridge and Lane. He was a member of the secession convention of 1861 from Dallas county and voted for the ordinance of secession.

In May, 1861, he enlisted as a private in the Confederate army. He was a member of Company I, Cahaba Rifles, Fifth Alabama regiment, in the command of Col. Robert E. Rodes. Senator Morgan was later chosen major in the Fifth Alabama and after four months' service he was promoted to colonel and raised the 61st Alabama. He was appointed brigadier-general in 1863 and assigned to duties in Virginia.

After the war Senator Morgan resumed the practice of law at Selma. In 1876 he was chosen as a presidential elector and voted for Tilden and Hendricks. He was later made a member of the commission to prepare a system of laws for the Hawaiian Islands.

Senator Morgan was elected to the United States senate to succeed George Goldthwaite, democrat, and took his seat March 5, 1877. He was re-elected in 1882, in 1888, 1894, 1900, and 1907.

Besides the Hawaiian laws commission Senator Morgan served efficiently as a member of the arbitration commission on Bering Sea fisheries, to which he was appointed by President Harrison in 1892.

As a member of the upper branch of the national legislative assembly for thirty years Senator Morgan was naturally among its most conspicuous members. He took leading part in many important debates and his counsel was always sought by the democratic party on all important legislative matters.

Though successful in his law practice and in public life for many years Senator Morgan was a comparatively poor man and for years he depended almost wholly upon his salary as senator. On the subject of making money Senator Morgan held views different from those of most men in public life at the present time. He wrote many articles for leading magazines and newspapers, matter for which the periodicals would have been glad to pay handsomely, but Senator Morgan invariably refused any compensation. He likewise refused to receive any financial returns from the lectures or public addresses that he delivered.

Orchard's testimony has stood a very hard test. It is still on the stand relating more horrid details of wholesale murder.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Boise, Idaho, June 12.—With the resumption of the Haywood trial this morning the cross-examination of Harry Orchard continued. The cross-examination was carried over the attempt on the life of Governor Peabody at Canon City and the events immediately succeeding, including the Goddard and Gabbert dynamite plots, and it followed the usual methods designed to confuse and discredit a witness. Still another crime came home to Orchard today. Under the hard examination he confessed he swindled the farmers in southern Colorado with a fake hail insurance game while down there trying to kill Peabody. Just before a recess the monotony of the examination was broken by Orchard's description of his attempts to kill Sherman Bull in Denver. For twelve nights he was at Bull's residence waiting an opportunity to shoot him. More than once Bull's life was saved by the barking of dogs.

This afternoon the editors and their wives made a trip to Virginia Beach and Cape Henry.

Count Leo Tolstoy

Count Leo Tolstoy, the famous Russian novelist, was born at Yasnaya Polyana, Russia, on August 28, 1828.
 In 1843 he studied at the University of Kazan languages and literature. He studied law from 1844 until 1848, when he was graduated. In 1853 he joined the Russian army of the Danube, and fought the Turks. He lived abroad
 about two years after this campaign, and, in 1875, he published his first world-read novel, "Anna Karenina." Since then Tolstoy has been one of the great men of the nineteenth century. He married Miss Sophie Behrs in 1862 at Moscow, and has had eight children. He is now very old and feeble, but his mind seems remarkably active for a man nearly 80 years of age.

VARIED PROGRAM ON CLASS NIGHT

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AT HIGH SCHOOL BEGAN LAST NIGHT.

HISTORY AND POEM GOOD

Class Will and Prophecy Clever—Clarinet and Piano Solo Pleased.

Ingenious class exercises, interesting these, two instrumental solos, a Gorman poem and a declamation, with music by the high school orchestra
 and Girls' Glee club, composed a diversified and pleasing program for the opening of the high school commencement in the auditorium of the high school building last evening. At eight o'clock the main floor and balcony
 were filled, nearly nine hundred people having been admitted. The executive opened the program with "Willowgrove March." The rounds of applause that followed were well deserved both by the members of the organization and their director, Mrs.
 Georgia Hyde. In behalf of the class of 1907 Miss Lulu Belle O'Brien gracefully extended a most cordial welcome to the friends of the graduates and the school. The four years of school were compared to a sea voyage, with commencement as the destination, and the trials and tribulations of the trip were related in a parody on portions of "The Ancient Mariner." Art was the subject of a sketch by Miss Genevieve Carver. Environment, she said, had much to do with the development of talent but Benjamin West,
 the great American painter, succeeded by grasping his few opportunities.
 To him was due the credit of producing on canvas real soldiers, breaking away from the stiffness and formality which characterized all former military pictures.

Baby Pictures of Graduates
 An entirely new idea was used by Miss Isabelle Ehringer in presenting the class history. Briefly skimming over the victories and defeats, the rejoicings and sorrows of high school life, she plunged into the biographies of the members. For this stereoscopic pictures were used, a verse, humorous paragraph or proverb being given for each. After pictures of the school building, Supt. H. C. Buell, the faculty and the janitors, baby photographs of the following were thrown upon the screen: William Spohn, Mary Mc-Gintley, William Langdon, Louise Bennett, Fred Jensen, Tassie Nott, Kenneth Jellris, Helen Morrissey, Walter Alvis, Sara McLean, Thomas Cassidy,
 Lulu Belle O'Brien, Wallace Mills,
 Maude Spoon, Agnes Buckmaster, Clara Belle Sherer, Harold Yahn, and Gertrude Bradley. The class poem was given by William Tiernan. In meter, changing with different stanzas, he told many tales out of school.
 His poem was one of the best ever given at high school graduation. For his portion of the exercises Irl R.
 Davis rendered a clarinet solo, "De-lecta Fantasia," and he proved himself a musician of no mean ability. With a short introduction and explanation
 Miss Lucyle Winslow recited a German poem, Uhland's "Der Blinde Koen-igin." Her pronunciation of the foreign language and delivery of the piece was good. Miss Mary L. Denoyer offered a thesis on "Popular Superstitions." She had collected all the common and many of less widely known signs and omens and told their significance. The essay was interesting, the maturity of people being more or less superstitions despite their scolding and disbelief.

Theses, Will and Piano Solo
 Wireless telegraphy was demonstrated in a thesis on its progress by Edward Boylen. He told of the advance made in this line of science and then explained the principle involved in the Marconi invention. Perry McKinney excellently rendered a piano solo, Shutt's "Ala-Bien-Ami."
 The number was well received, yet
 Mr. McKinney possessing a delicate yet firm touch and a finished technique.
 In the most bombastic legal phraseology Kenneth B. Jeffris gave the class will, bequeathing the many deficiencies of his class to the succeeding classes. The hits were many and clever and were well rendered. The will was read from a huge document hung with an overgrown seal of the class colors. Rexford D. Pearce, speaking on fire extinguishers, explained that the principle of these was to take all the oxygen from the atmosphere about the blaze and thus smother it. The thesis was accompanied by two demonstrations. Miss Nellie Canary gave an illustrated thesis on Luther Burbank. Showing and explaining his successes in developing plant life and propagating new species, she claimed for this horticultural wizard a place unique among the benefactors of mankind. The always-popular Girls' Glee club sang and were forced to answer the applause with an encore. The members of the organization are the Misses Mildred Doty, Agnes Buckmaster, Violet Tre-
 sey, Mary Ludden, Pearl Baker, Drey-Nott, Ethel Pond, Marjory Bates and Starr Wikom. For them Miss Ethel Crowley played the violin obligato and Miss Ruth Wheeler the piano accompaniment.

Magic and Class Prophecy
 One of the greatest optical illusions
 of the magicians, Kellar and Herman, was produced by Benjamin Ellger. By the aid of a black background and lights which shone into the eyes of the audience and not upon the stage
 he picked a wand from the air, created stands, grew flowers and performed other feats. The stage lights were then turned on and the trick was explained, it being shown that a confederate let the objects be seen by simply removing their black cloth coverings. Leonard G. Burgess gave a thesis on "Our Humber Friends," illustrating it with slides which he himself made. Myrtle M. Osgood read Edward Everett Hale's "A Man Without a Country." The declamation was well delivered. After another number,
 "Boys of Victory" march, by the orchestra, the class prophecy was given by Walter Alvis and Noah Dietrich.
 The stage was set to represent at an athletic park, supposed to be the realization of Mr. Buell's fond dream of such a ground within a few blocks of the school. The time was year 1922 and the two men met after the year turned back to school days and the lives of their classmates since then.
 These had gone into various walks of life and the chance for many funny
 "cracks" was well embraced.

EVANSVILLE ALUMNI RECEPTION SUCCESS

Two Weddings of Interest to Cut-off City People—Minor Events and Personal Notes.

Evansville, June 10.—The annual reception of the High School Alumni association held in Magee's opera house Saturday evening was well attended and proved a most enjoyable affair. A short program was given consisting of a reading by Miss Lora North, vocal solo Miss Elsie Finn, and a piano solo by Miss Lola Acheson.
 These selections were followed by an address by Prof. H. F. Kling of Chicago. His remarks were very appropriate and much appreciated and his former students and many friends in this city were more than pleased to welcome him in their midst again.

 ties were taking their places Miss Bernice Franklin accompanied by Miss Mae Johnson sang, "O Promise Me," and the Rev. Mr. Black of Albany spoke the words which made the happy couple one. The bride was prettily gowned in white and carried a bou-quet of beautiful roses. At ten o'clock a delicious four course supper was served, the tables being daintily decorated with ferns and Lilies of the Valley. Mr. and Mrs. Bullard im-

 NIGHT.

Great Revivalist Arrives in City and Begins His Personal Work at West Side Rink.

Interest in the Scoville meetings here is not confined to our city. The

CHARLES REIGN SCOVILLE

Gazette is in receipt of a letter from a prominent Indiana attorney:

"Muncie, Indiana, June 11.

"Dear Sir:
 "Send to me your daily during the stay of your evangelist, Charles Reign Scoville. He just concluded a most revival here. I have studied him closely and am greatly interested in him. I want your paper for its report of the Scoville meetings.

"A. E. NEEDHAM."
 Muncie has been stirred to its depths. The revival under Scoville with but a single church back of him was the greatest revival in the history of the city.

The distinguished evangelist arrived in Janesville on the North-Western at 6:45 last evening. He was accompanied by his wife and by Mr.
 and Mrs. Betts. During their stay in our city Dr. and Mrs. Scoville are guests at the home of Mr. A. G. Anderson, 54 Cherry street. His work closed at Muncie on Sunday evening.

At the Rink an expectant crowd gathered despite the rain. Many invitations had been extended during the afternoon by a large committee of ladies and of gentlemen also. The difficulty will be not to get the crowds but to provide sufficient seats when the meetings gain their momentum.

The song service was led with inspirational power by Deoss Smith. The crowd without as well as within heard the sweet, stirring strains, "Oh, believe me, believe me," "Throw out the life line to danger fraught men."

When Scoville arose to speak the audience saw a lioness man with muscles in his powerful mould and he could not but gain honors on athletic fields as well as on the platform.

He inundates the audience with his own splendid vitality. His utterance is torrential in rapidity and he sweeps
 his hearers with tremendous earnestness. Epigram, humor, pathos, a burst of flame, a thrust into the depths of conscience, a healing touch of a kindly hand, such was the sermon last evening. It is doubtful if a greater orator ever engaged in evangelism in our city. The faces of the audience bore witness to his power as they listened, enraptured, smiles, glow, eyes teared, dimmed, hope, resolution, the dignity of the occasion was blended with informality. "If you haven't an amen," said the speaker, "borrow one."

Sometimes his sentence was a question which the audience spontaneously answered. A sermon is only as long as it seems but last night the audience thought the sermon brief.
 Although it did toll justice to its theme.

"We are workers together with God," was the text of the discourse.
 Christ can save the world but he cannot save it alone. He must have assistants, neighbors and mothers, brothers and sisters, neighbors and friends. He entrusts to the people to us and it we fail there is no other arrangement in reserve. Draw a circle, then get inside of it and stay and pray until you are conscious that all inside of the circle pleases God and is devoted to the service of men. Perfect instruments are not necessary. The man who seeks a perfect church will never find it and if he should join it the church would then cease to be perfect.
 We can love a man for his aim. If you don't like something I say, remember the man in front of you, the woman behind you. You are not obliged to eat all the kinds of food on a table. Take what appeals to your palate and offer no objection to the liver and sauerkraut which are the proper dietary for other diners. I must set a table for a thousand people and therefore must supply various edibles, recognize the fact and use your common sense. One pastor classified his church members thus—workers, shirkers and jerkers. Another pastor had two categories, workers and grumblers: the workers did not grumble and the grumblers did not work. If you see some man without teeth enough to chew popcorn go out grumbling you may conclude that he belongs to the ranks of the grumblers.

 I may make enemies but I am enemy to no man. Many a man is infinitely better than his business, as good a man at heart as any of us;
 we may abominate his business or his practice but love him. We need to say, not God willing, but man willing, we will have a great meeting. He is ready to work with us whenever we are ready to work with him. One of the curses of our churches is uneducated church members. In New York city there are 330,000 people once members of churches. Their religion is all in their cere and faded church
 letters at the bottom of their trunks.
 Dr. Scoville told the story of a church whose attendance and finances were good, but whose pastor was discouraged through lack of spiritual results.
 When he called his official board together and declared his purpose to resign they were so astounded that their eyes resembled fried eggs. None of them had led anybody to Christ or into the church for years. The pastor brought from them acknowledgment of the fact and insisted they also ought to resign with him as together unfit. They had, however, a real prayer meeting and made a real consecration of themselves. The very next day the chief elder led twelve of his business associates and employees to Christ. When we begin in dead earnest to be co-workers with God things begin to happen.

Meetings Today
 Dr. Scoville spoke at noon to the employees of the Parker-Pen company.
 This evening he will address another great gathering at the Rink. The singing begins at 7:30 o'clock and the sermon half an hour or so later.

 wish to retire having reached the age of seventy, Chief Justice John B.

 dent, will doubtless avail himself of the new law. Judge Cassoday went

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Wednesday, June 12, 1867.—A Brilliant Meteor.—People who chanced to be star gazing last evening, about half past nine o'clock, witnessed a meteor of unusual brilliancy. It was in the northwestern heavens and resembled a rocket of unusual size and great brilliancy.

Strawberry Festival.—Our Methodist friends are making every effort in their power to insure a pleasant time at their festival, which takes place at Lappin's Hall on Friday evening. It is for the benefit of the Sabbath School and should be generously patronized, as we have no doubt it will be. Those who have attended similar festivals given by this society will need no urging to go.

A Successful Trial.—We today witnessed the first trial ever made of a combined reaper and mower of the Clow pattern. The machine was from the manufactory of H. L. Smith & Co. of this city, and the trial took place on the farm of Mr. Sumner Parker. The grass was a mixture of June grass and clover, the former largely predominating, quite light, and just such grass as it requires a very sharp scythe to cut. The mower worked like a charm, leaving the stubble as even and smooth as a floor. The machine, already popular, has another element to commend it to universal favor.

Good Report From Florida.—A prominent citizen of Florida writing to Governor Fairchild requesting copies of our State Institution and public system of schools, that "we may sift out the jewels and place them in the crown of our new-born Florida," writes: "The radical party in this part of the country have stripped to the waist to engage in the work of reconstruction. We look for aid and counsel from our Northern friends. With the colored vote we can forever bury rebellion. Glory to the 40th Congress."

Old English Water Works. Tiverton has the oldest water works of any English town. They were made by Amicia, countess of Devon, in 1240, and presented to the town. The water is brought from a distance of five miles.

THE VALUE OF SPECULATION.

Criticism of William J. Bryan must necessarily be preceded by an appreciation of his character, his independence and his eloquence.

Mr. Bryan's study of economics, however, is never judicial, says the Wall Street Journal. He is always a partisan, using the word not in its narrow and offensive sense, but as describing one who is never able to take any but an aggressive position on any question.

Mr. Bryan is as partisan and as logically unsound on the question of speculation as he was—and is—on the question of silver. He is apparently unable to understand the economic value of speculation. He cannot conceive of it as having a proper place in the business system. In his speech before the Board of Trade and Transportation, in New York recently, Mr. Bryan spoke of gambling and speculation as practically synonymous terms. "You do queer things in New York," he said. "You get excited over a young man who loses a little money in a gambling house, but are not at all moved by what you call speculation running into the hundreds of millions." Mr. Bryan is especially indignant about the speculation in the necessities of life, and he says that if gambling lowers the price of wheat, it robs the farmer, and if it raises the price, it robs the men who buy from the farmer.

Of the value of speculation in providing a continuous market for securities and commodities, of its value in regulating production and consumption so that one shall correspond as equitably as possible to the other, of its value as establishing from day to day a measure or price by which exchanges may be made, Mr. Bryan says nothing. Of the distinction between legitimate finance and manipulative promotion, Mr. Bryan has nothing to say. Like many other critics of the Wall Street system, he apparently sweeps everything under one condemnation.

CIVIC ENTHUSIASM

Janesville appears to have awakened suddenly to a realization that despite the weather is cold the Fourth of July is near at hand and that if the city is to celebrate the natal day of the nation something must be done with haste to make the affair a success. The mass-meeting Monday evening demonstrated that the citizens generally wanted a celebration and the next thing is to arrange for it. Committees have been appointed who have had experience in past years and work has already begun in their different departments. Bands have been engaged, promising lots of good music, arrangements made for the civic morning parade, the Nonesuch Bros. afternoon feature and the automobile parade in the evening. The decoration committee are all ready with their plans for making the city gay and festive and other plans are being hastened. One thing, however, must not be forgotten. If the day is to be made a success money must be forthcoming. The subscription list must be freely signed. The gentlemen composing the committees have much hard work before them and they should have the hearty support of the citizens generally. Subscribe liberally when the list reaches you.

Ex-Mayor Rose has returned to Milwaukee to live. Sherbie Becker is still the Boy Mayor and his musical Toot Toot may drown out the tones of Dave's visions of the west as he relates them in the Amen corner of some club.

Roosevelt starts from Washington for a vacation. Root, Fairbanks, Taft and others are delivering speeches and Washington is left in silence until the warm weather comes in the fall.

Maybe the French wine-growers are right when they say they should stop growing wine. California produces a first class specimen of the real stuff at moderate prices.

The Milwaukee Journal evidently does not approve of Taft and his speeches. Well, the Milwaukee Journal never does approve of anything anyone else does.

Supposing one of the old genuine Puritan Fathers could step down from his frame and onto the deck of the Mayflower to review the ships of seven navies.

Before Janesville gets ready to entertain the crowds expected here July fourth they should mend a few sidewalks and clean up the lawns properly.

If anyone could invent a substitute for this cold weather the farmers would like to have it patented and placed on the market as soon as possible.

The weather-man's hand is still a little shaky and he does not grip that warm-weather lever with as firm a grasp as one might wish.

Former Senator Spooner evidently has a true friend and admirer in William H. Taft.

It takes the Americans in London to really show the English what horse-flesh really is.

Old Grandfather Bullock's descendant has made a decided hit with the people of Georgia.

Orchard evidently erred in not keeping on good terms with his large collection of wives.

Orchard still continues to hold the stage and play in the limelight at Boise.

Harriman is relieved. Roosevelt has gone to Oyster Bay for a good long summer rest.

According to Roosevelt a man is not always good just because he has a bank account.

Ambassador Bryce is not at all disgusted with America and his new title.

If Harriman is so guilty why not kidnap him and take him to Idaho for trial.

Mr. Bryan still keeps silent while Teddy and the Big Stick work.

Dan Coughlin has slipped away from the Chicago police just once more.

This summer has been notable for the lack of sunstrokes reported.

An idea has been suggested that of hanging bells upon Uncle Sam's money in Chicago.

Today is not really a straw-hat day but several are to be seen.

PRESS COMMENT.

Jingoes. Milwaukee News: It seems that there are politicians in Japan.

Going Back of Returns. Milwaukee Journal: A La Follette presidential bureau is reported in New York. Guess where Bob gets the money!

Thus Each Burg Finds Comfort. Fond du Lac Commonwealth: No city in Wisconsin is so much talked about as Fond du Lac and it is going to continue to remain as such.

Frisco Not Odorous of Flowers. Milwaukee Sentinel: Twelve tons of Limburger cheese have been ordered for San Francisco. Its presence there will hardly be noticed.

Permanently Misled. Chicago Record-Herald: It may be, of course, that the President's apology to Dr. Long has been delayed in transmission or switched into the dead letter office.

Next Year. Chicago Tribune: Try to cheer up. Think of the magnificent and practically untouched stock of straw hats you will be able to make your selection from when the time comes.

Drank Deep Ere Cup Passed. Ohio State Journal: It is noticeable, however, that the boy mayor of Milwaukee didn't turn down the theater job without allowing the press agents a week of unusual activity.

Badger Railroad Valuation. Sheboygan Journal: The value of Wisconsin railroads has been fixed at $225,855,000. Judging by the way some of them have opposed taxation, they should be feeling like 6 cents.

Harsh Words, These. Milwaukee Free Press: The Rev. Dr. Hoffman of St. Louis brands the Chicago university as "a hotbed of infidelity," and thus gets back on John D. Rockefeller and his tainted gifts to that institution.

Problem Even More Complicated. Chicago News: What shall we do with our boys? If they remain at home they are in danger of being mollycoddles and if we turn them into the woods the chances are that they will grow up to be nature fakers.

Dr. Roberts Sustained. Green Bay Gazette: The appointment of Dr. Roberts to the office of state veterinarian has been upheld by the senate and the foes of the doctor will now have to admit that his case takes on more strength.

Cherished Institution Endangered. El Paso Herald: Since Mr. Roosevelt began to jump on "nature fakers," men are beginning to hesitate in telling the harmless necessary fish story. It is another case of federal interference with our popular rights.

Is For Municipal Ownership. Neenah Times: Hon. Isaac Stephenson, the Marinette millionaire and senator-elect, has created a sensation in his home city by giving out an interview in which he favors municipal ownership of the city water plant there.

Pabst's Great Stallion. Beloit Free Press: Pabst follows quickly on the heels of Croker. The Milwaukee man's hackney took the blue ribbon in London's great horse show. Eddie will be more tickled than ever. He refused to speak to Croker after Orby had won the Derby.

Taft's Visit Here May Help.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Some of the republicans of this state are trying to promote the name of Senator La Follette for the presidential nomination next year, and as there seems to be a division of opinion regarding the advisability of this move, the visit of Secretary Taft to the state at this time may prove to be of more than passing importance.

Rats. St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Two rats, in four years, according to the agricultural department, may have 20,155,000 descendants. The tendency of rats toward social suicide is so weak that additional measures will have to be taken to keep them under. But their census possibilities are magnificent.

A Scorchers' Ladies Aid Society. Exchange: The girls of Wilmette, Ill., have organized a society to warn auto drivers when the police are watching to catch violators of the speed ordinance. It is pretty hard to convince the average girl that going fast in an automobile is an offense worthy of punishment by arrest and fine.

The Drama's Call to Becker.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Mayor Becker of Milwaukee has been offered $1,500 per week to go on the stage and assume a stellar part in the historical play, "The Man of the Hour." And although Mr. Becker has a rich father and is himself well-to-do, it is no surprise to learn he is "seriously considering" the offer.

More Obligations Impending.

Menasha Record: Now is the republican party of Wisconsin to get in debt again to Isaac Stephenson for putting up for the La Follette presidential boom? Otherwise where will the where-withall come from and how can the party pay the new obligations unless they return Mr. Stephenson to the senate? This seems to be the latest puzzle.

Chasing Will of the Wisp.

Stanley Republican: Mr. Stephenson will now reciprocate by handing Mr. La Follette the Wisconsin delegation to the national convention. That's easy, nobody else wants it. But this favorite son business, while it tickles the vanity of the son, leaves the state in bad shape politically. Why not support somebody that's in the running and be in shape to share in the perquisites?

Abject Loyalty.

Madison Journal: Here is devotion for you! The Lancaster Teller, whose editor is holding a good-paying position in the state capital to which he was appointed when La Follette was governor, asserts that the suspension of the Chicago Chronicle resulted from that paper's antagonism to La Follette. The editor of the Teller will ask us to believe next that the cold spring is due to the failure of the republicans of Wisconsin to warm up to the La Follette presidential boomlet.

Cheap as Dirt.

New York Commercial: The Western Federation of Miners, according to the testimony of the chief witness for the state in the trial of William D. Haywood at Boise, was no more or less than a cold-blooded murder ring. The witness, Orchard, has related stories, with utmost unconcern, of atrocious murders that would blanch the cheek of common thugs. Hardly ever in history has such a relentless gang gone about the destruction deliberately and unmeditatedly of innocent men. The price of a human life was cheap as dirt.

Who Are the Pirate Press?

Fond du Lac Bulletin: Some of the democratic papers of the state who argued the giving of the Wisconsin delegation in the last democratic national convention to E. C. Wall from motives of "expediency" are now shocked because the republicans of the state want Senator La Follette nominated for president. It may be noted, however, that it is only the pirate press that takes that position.

The Wary Bird, Capital.

Evening Wisconsin: The new companies with a capital of $1,000,000 or over incorporated in the Eastern states during the month of May, 1907, represent an aggregate capitalization of $122,250,000, compared with $135,300,000 in May, 1906, and $249,250,000 in May, 1905. The New York Journal of Commerce, which compiles these figures, attributes the falling off to the public's lack of confidence in securities generally and to the depression of the Stock Exchange. Capital is a wary bird, and indisposed to come out unless the sun is shining.

Wisconsin Contributions to War.

Jefferson County Union: Wisconsin sent nearly 100,000 men to the civil war, almost one in seven of the entire people of the state. Of these over 12,000 died, or about one in eight. What would the peace-loving people of today think if they were called on to send to war one man out of seven of all the men, women and children, and of those sent, one in eight should be selected to seal their devotion with their life? And yet we have no doubt that the people of this day of blessed peace would be ready to make just as great sacrifice if their country were in danger as did the fathers and mothers of 1861-5.

Weather Promises Unfulfilled.

Chicago Record-Herald: Hicks, the weather prophet of St. Louis, and Jackson Devoe, the goosebone expert of Hackensack, N. J., have increased the uncertainties of a variable climate. Hicks started a hot spell on June 2, when the conditions were actually such as to call for a fur cape out of doors and a furnace fire within. On the third there was some confirmation of his predictions, for a rise occurred and the sky looked ominous. But people who want to believe in a prophet, and their number is legion, will be troubled on learning that Goosebone Devoe is for a cold month all the way through, whereas Hicks would have us sweeter. The differences are irreconcilable, though there is a general agreement on the subject of storms. Whether it is cold or hot, these are to come thick and fast.

EXPERT ON ROADS IS COMING ON SATURDAY

Chairman S. S. Jones of County Board is Sending Notices to Colleagues to be Here to Hear Hotchkiss.

Word has been received from Chairman S. S. Jones of the county board of supervisors, that W. O. Hotchkiss of the geological and natural history survey of Wisconsin and in charge of the department of economic geology, will come to Janesville from Madison this week to discuss with the representatives of the several towns that have appropriated money for the purpose, the subject of road-building. The meeting will be held at the court house at two o'clock next Saturday afternoon, June 15. Mr. Hotchkiss may possibly arrive here on the Friday preceding in order to look over the material hereabouts available for road building. The director of the Good Roads movement in the state of Washington who delivers a lecture at the Assembly chamber at Madison to night, may come with him. The latter has a series of stereoscopic pictures and could deliver a very helpful and interesting lecture, were he urged to do so. In a letter to District Attorney J. L. Fisher, Mr. Hotchkiss said: "While in many cases it would not be possible to build a mile of macadam road for $2,000, it can easily be demonstrated that a county where land is as valuable as it is in Rock county, could afford to spend double or triple that sum." "Further on he says: 'As soon as our bill passes the legislature we shall have men available to answer all such calls and assist in every way practicable.'"

MORTUARY MENTION.

Mrs. Ann Murty. Funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. Ann Murty were held from St. Mary's church at nine o'clock this morning. Rev. W. A. Gabel celebrated mass and the attendance of friends of the deceased and of the bereaved family was large. The pallbearers were P. Enright, J. Welch, N. Reed, D. Barry, M. Mulcahey and H. Joyce. Interment was in Mount Olivet cemetery.

Andrew Wadsworth. The remains of the late Andrew Wadsworth will arrive here from Waukesha on the 10:15 train over the St. Paul road tomorrow morning and be taken immediately to Oak Hill cemetery for short funeral services and burial.

Bill Nye and Maartens.

The presence in this country of the distinguished Dutch novelist, Maarten Maartens, recalls the story of his election in the spring of 1895 as an honorary member of the Author's club of New York. When the name Joost Marius M. Van der Poorten-Schwartz came to the attention of the membership committee there was a gasp of astonishment. Finally the late Bill Nye came to the rescue with the suggestion that the first half of the name should be acted on at once, but that the last half should be held over until the autumn, when the weather would be cool.—The Bookman.

GEO. MILLER LOST LIFE IN TERRIBLE RUNAWAY TRAGEDY

And Miss Mary McGinley and Escort, on Way to High School Commencement Underwent Experience They Will Never Forget.

The mad flight of a team of runaway horses, culminating in a sudden and awful tragedy on the Corn Exchange square, was an indirect prelude to the opening of the high school commencement exercises last evening. Miss Mary U. McGinley of 106 Glenn street, a member of the graduating class, and Mr. William Heider, her escort, were being conveyed to the scene of the festivities about half past seven o'clock in a coach from the Goodman livery. A youth by the name of Edwin Goodman was on the box. Before the equipage turned onto North Bluff street the traces became unfastened and the horses began to rear and kick, presently breaking into a wild gallop, to check which the boy's efforts were unavailing. They swung onto East Milwaukee street at a terrific rate and as they were passing a jackman block the pole came loose and the driver let go of the reins. The detached vehicle shot diagonally across the thoroughfare and onto the bridge, wheeling up to the curb in front of Brown Bros' shoe store.

George Miller, a step-son of Jerome Howland who resides at 4 North Fifth street, left the vicinity of a barber shop on the Corn Exchange square and started to cross to the Baker drug store corner almost precisely at this moment. A horse and buggy, hitched near the corner, probably out of his view of the main thoroughfare. As he stepped into the course they were traversing the horses struck and felled him to the pavement, themselves stumbling, sliding, and piling up in a heap at the curb which protects the little park and fountain.

From all directions the horror-stricken spectators came running. To the scene, Drs. G. C. Wanders, T. H. McCarthy, M. A. Curran, and S. B. Buckmaster, from their offices in the vicinity, being among the first to arrive. The injured man lay as if dead and there was an ugly depression and fracture above the right temple. When he had been carried to Dr. Buckmaster's office and an examination was made a slight flutter of the heart was discernible. But hypodermic injections failed to stimulate stronger action and within the space of perhaps ten minutes he breathed his last. It was the opinion of all that death was due primarily to the shock, the skull fracture not being of a nature to necessarily cause death.

Meanwhile, several blocks to the eastward, the occupants of the coach, nearly overcome with fright, had been assisted into Brown's store by sympathetic acquaintances who had witnessed the terrible occurrence. McGinley barely escaped a fainting spell but soon recovered her composure, and proceeded on foot with her companion to the high school building.

George Miller was an unmarried man about 35 years of age. Until recently he followed the vocation of a harnessmaker, being employed at the William Sadler shop on South Main street for many years. The funeral will be held at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the Presbyterian church.

LARGE GALLERY AT THE ASSAULT AND BATTERY TRIAL

Jury of Six Is Trying Alex. Russell on Charge Preferred by Wilson Lane—Imposing Array of Legal Counsel—Many Ladies Present.

Before a jury composed of W. B. Conrad, M. C. Fish, Patrick Heffernan, John Manning, Philip Costigan, and Alderman John J. Sheridan, and a "gallery" of at least 250 ladies and gentlemen—the largest which has assembled there in four years' time—the trial of the assault and battery action brought by Wilson Lane against Alex. P. Russell was commenced shortly after two o'clock this afternoon. Former Circuit Judge Benjamin D. Widdie, William Smith, and Charles Pierce are the counsel for the prosecution and T. S. Nolan represents the defendant.

The complaining witness, himself, was the first put on the stand. In answer to questions by his lawyers he said that he would be 65 years old on the 11th of August; that he was knocked down without warning by the defendant on Milwaukee street just before noon on Saturday; that he was unconscious from the blow for a few seconds and his hearing and entire nervous system was affected.

In answer to questions by defendant's attorneys he further said that he had never considered himself an athlete or made boasts that he was considerable of a fighter; that he did not run three farms himself; that he had been President of the Humane Society since last fall; that his business with Russell had been entirely that of the Humane Society; that he sent a letter to the defendant on May 8 setting forth what the Society demanded should be done with the latter's live-stock; that Russell did not comply with all of the requests; that he did not say on the day the incident occurred that he would prosecute Russell, but that he did say he would prosecute one of Russell's men; that Russell drove up to the curb, got out the back, and came up to him saying: "You are a black-maller trying to ruin my business;" that he (Lane) said "There is no use of your coming here and talking to me that way—I don't know what you mean. I am not trying to ruin your business;" that he (Lane) did not call Russell by a foul epithet; that he didn't think he swore at Russell; that it was none of Attorney Nolan's business whether or not he belonged to the Baptist church; that he (Lane) didn't pull a knife any time during the altercation; that he didn't know whether or not he afterwards said: "If you come back I'll cut your head off."

In an argument against the sustaining of an objection against one of his questions, Atty. Nolan said that the defense would try to show that Lane had put his hand in his pocket in a threatening way while Russell was addressing him, leading the latter to believe that he was going to draw a knife. Mr. Lane was still on the stand at 3:30.

A Tribute

In behalf of Mr. George Miller, whom God so suddenly summoned to his reward, I wish to express, what many other mothers and boys feel, a deep appreciation of the life, whose sympathy was like his Master. He came with the Y. M. C. A. Juniors two years ago and the influence of his life will ever live. If men would respect boys as this man did the boy problem would be solved.

WILLIAM DILLON IS STILL UNCONSCIOUS

And Will Probably Never Be Able to Tell What Happened to Him in Lonely Spot Near Hanson Furniture Factory.

William Dillon, the man who was found lying beside the St. Paul tracks in an insensible condition early yesterday morning and who was thought to have been struck by the 3:55 north-bound passenger on the previous evening, has not recovered consciousness and the prospects are that he never will do so. There is a serious fracture at the base of the skull and an operation is advised by the attending physician, Dr. T. W. Nuzum. As the county will have to bear the expense of the man's care, it will be necessary to obtain the permission of Poor Commissioner Kenyon to this delicate and expensive procedure, and the latter was to have a conference with the doctors this afternoon. There is a possibility that by an operation the pressure on the brain could be removed and the man's life saved.

Marcus C. Bergh, the head of the state banking department, in conversation a few days ago, said: "I believe in advertising not so much what a bank owes as its capital and investments." Or it is not practicable for us to advertise. They are very nearly all short time notes, many of them given by your friends and neighbors. Such business is, of course, confidential, and we cannot follow Mr. Bergh's advice in this respect. What we owe, that is our deposits, has increased 30% in the past year and still our capital, surplus, and profits bear a very safe proportion to that account. They are today one-quarter of the total deposits. When $100,000, our shareholders' liability, is added to our own capital invested, the margin of safety in favor of the depositor in this bank is unusually large. We invite your business.

ROOT WILL NOT GIVE JAP RUMORS NOTICE

WASHINGTON OFFICIALS SEE NO DANGER OF WAR.

DUE TO POLITICS IN TOKIO

Uneasiness in London Affects the New York Market and Stocks Suffer Considerable Decline.

Washington, June 12.—Secretary Root Tuesday positively declined to make any statement respecting the Japanese situation. This was done with full knowledge of the uneasiness which exists in financial circles as the result of circulation of war rumors.

It may be said, however, that the secretary's refusal was based solely upon his unwillingness to accord the rumors official notice, and not upon any belief on his part that there is the least danger of war, or even of a breach of the friendly relations that now exist between America and Japan.

The fact is that, in the official mind, the present agitation is nothing more than the working of internal Japanese politics. A strenuous opposition party in Japan is seeking for weapons to attack the party in power is appealing to the populace and to the pride of the Japanese to affront the United States.

Government Not Worried.

The situation was summed up by a very high official in the following response to the question as to what could be said to allay the uneasiness in this country:

"If the administration has any fear of trouble with Japan, growing out of the disturbances in San Francisco no responsible official is willing to admit it. On the contrary, state department officials profess to feel hopeful that everything will come out all right and that the situation between the two countries will gradually become normal. That Japan has made no complaint to the United States was the statement made most positively in responsible quarters; there is no trouble between the two countries and there is no danger of war."

Makes Stocks Sell Lower.

New York, June 12.—Uneasiness in London over the relations of the United States and Japan, coupled with selling in the New York stock market for the London brokers, were contributing causes to a considerable decline in the prices of stocks Tuesday.

It was estimated that London brokers sold 15,000 shares in the New York market, chiefly owing to the Japanese situation. Despite assuring statements from Washington and a general disposition to regard the rumors as of no consequence, the selling pressure was applied to the market nearly all day and the lowest prices were reached in the last half hour.

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS

For more than forty years S. S. S. has worn the crown of public approval and has been recognized as the King of Blood Purifiers. It has demonstrated its ability to CURE in thousands upon thousands of cases of blood and skin diseases until it is regarded today as the most reliable and safest of all blood medicines.

Pure blood means strong, vigorous bodies, well nourished systems, steady nerves, and all the machinery of life working in harmony with nature—thus insuring perfect health. Impure or diseased blood means the opposite of all this; any impurity, humor or poison in this vital fluid acts injuriously on the system and affects the general health. Pastular eruptions, pimples, rashes and the various skin affections show that the blood is in a feverish and diseased condition, as the result of too much acid or the presence of some irritating humor. Chronic Sores and Ulcers are the result of morbid, unhealthy matter in the blood, while Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are all deep-seated blood disorders that continue to grow worse as long as the poisons which produce them remain in the blood.

All blood troubles are not acquired. Through the blood disease germs are transmitted from one generation to another. Parents hand down a tainted circulation to their children, and we see its effects manifested in various ways. The skin has a waxy, pallid appearance, the eyes are often weak, glands of the neck enlarged, and, as the taint has been in the blood since birth, the entire health is usually affected, and the system weakened from want of nourishing, health-giving blood.

In all blood troubles S. S. S. has proven itself "The King of Blood Purifiers." It goes down into the circulation and removes all poisons, humors, waste or foreign matter, and makes this life-stream pure and health-sustaining. Nothing reaches inherited blood troubles like S. S. S.; it removes every particle of the taint, purifies and strengthens the weak, deteriorated blood, supplies it with the healthful properties it needs and establishes the foundation for good health. As a tonic S. S. S. has no equal, and it will be found especially bracing to weak, anaemic persons.

One of the greatest points in favor of S. S. S. is that it is purely vegetable, made from nature's healing, cleansing, health-producing roots, herbs and barks. It is the one medicine that may be taken with absolute safety by the youngest child or the oldest member of the family. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood troubles are cured permanently by S. S. S., and so thorough is the cleansing of the blood that no trace of the disease is left to break out in future years, or to be transmitted to offspring. If your blood is out of order begin the use of S. S. S., The King of Blood Purifiers, and restore this vital fluid to its normal healthy condition, and enjoy the blessing of good health. Book on the blood and any special medical advice desired will be furnished free of charge to all who write.

Gund's Peerless Beer

Is really a wholesome and natural temperance drink (containing only 3½ percent of alcohol), that promotes digestion, and enriches the blood. It is a thousand times better for the human stomach and nerves than dyspepsia creating concoctions like coffee and pink tea. Dr. Pasteur calls it "a veritable food product," and Dr. Wm. L. Beebe, Surgeon for Jas. J. Hill's Great Northern Railway System, says: "Beer is surely a food, by reason of its ingredients, and its moderate use is not at all injurious to the health of adult persons." Peerless has attained its commanding superiority because it has been brewed for over 50 years by the "Gund Natural Process," and is bottled only at the brewery. AIMED AT COAL MONOPOLY

GOVERNMENT SUIT AGAINST THE ANTHRACITE ROADS.

Seven Companies Accused of Conspiring to Kill Competition—Harriman Proceedings Probable.

Washington, June 12.—The following statement was made public at the department of justice Tuesday:

"The petition to be filed Wednesday by the government in the United States circuit court at Philadelphia is aimed at the anthracite coal monopoly. The Reading company, a holding corporation; the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad company, the Delaware Valley Railroad company, the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad company, Central railroad of New Jersey, the Erie Railroad company, and the New York, Susquehanna & Western Railroad company, comprising all the roads that tap the anthracite regions save the Pennsylvania, the New York, Ontario & Western and the Delaware & Hudson (which last does not extend to tidewater), are made defendants, together with their subsidiary coal mining companies. As yet no evidence of sufficient probative force to connect the three named railroads with the alleged unlawful combination and monopoly has been found. Should such evidence be forthcoming in the progress of the trial they may, and of course will, be joined with the other defendants.

"In brief, the petition recites that the defendant railroads control all the means of transportation between the anthracite mines and tidewater except the lines of the Pennsylvania railroad and the New York, Ontario & Western railway, which reach only a limited number of collieries; that they transport annually about 75 per cent. of the total anthracite tonnage; that in their own names or through coal companies whose capital stock they own they control about 90 per cent. of all the anthracite deposits and produce about 75 per cent. of the annual supply; that independent operators, although owning probably little more than five per cent. of the anthracite deposits, yet produce about 20 per cent. of the annual supply, which would be sold in competition with the output of the defendants were it not for the restraints imposed by the latter.

"The petition then charges that the defendants have conspired to silence competition among themselves in the transportation and sale of coal and to prevent the sale of the independent output in competition with their own, thereby establishing a monopoly."

Developments since the conference at the White House last Friday evening make it probable that the government will begin proceedings under the anti-trust act against E. H. Harriman and his associates for violations of the law in connection with the so-called Chicago & Alton railroad deal, the Union & Southern Pacific transactions, and perhaps in connection with the Southern Pacific and the San Pedro traffic agreement. The contemplated prosecution of the bituminous coal carrying roads, however, will likely await the result of the action by the courts in the cases to be brought against the Harriman roads.

"BOOTLEGGING" IN EVANSVILLE IS VERY EXPENSIVE

Dennis Casey, Paid a Fine and Costs of $47.60 This Morning—Clinton Druggists in Court on Charge of Selling to a Minor.

Neighborly "bootlegging" for a friend cost Dennis Casey, a highly respectable farmer residing near Evansville, $47.60 in municipal court this morning. Evansville druggists, it appears and received some sort of notice to sell no liquor to Jack Robinson, who lives near Cooksville. Robinson, seeing Casey on his way to town, so the story goes, requested the latter to buy a bottle of liquor for him, and the obliging Casey, though a member in good standing of the Temperance Society, agreed to do so. He told Frank Crow, the druggist, that he wanted it for his own uses which would be of a medicinal character, and of course had no difficulty in obtaining it. The fine for making such false certificates ranges from $40 to $200 with long jail terms as alternatives, and being beyond the jurisdiction of the Evansville justice, the case was brought here for trial. Casey entered a plea of "guilty" and paid his fine with assurance that he would never be a "goon fellow" again.

About a fortnight ago Peter Schirer, a Milwaukee pedlar, was fined $10 and costs for retailing liquor on the streets of Evansville. The Temperance Society and officers are hot on the trail of all offenders and the druggists are not the only people who have cause for uneasiness.

D. C. Griswold and O. L. Woodward, Clinton druggists, were haled into municipal court this morning to answer to a charge of selling liquor to a minor named Chas. Bertelson. Rev. Mr. Butler was the principal complainant but the complaint itself, was signed by George Bertelson, the boy's father. Mr. Woodward pleaded guilty this afternoon, stating that he had sold liquor to Bertelson but that the latter had represented himself as 21 years of age and he had no means of knowing that this statement was untrue. The court assessed the minimum fine of $5 and costs, which he paid. Mr. Griswold had not put in an appearance at 3:30.

NICARAGUA BEGINS WAR

CAPTURES THE SALVADOREAN PORT OF ACAJUTLA.

Gunboat Bombards the Fort and Gen. Manuel Rivas Takes Possession of City.

Mexico City, June 12.—Hostilities have broken out in Central America. A force of Nicaraguans, assisted by Salvadorean revolutionists, captured the port of Acajutla, Salvador, Tuesday morning.

This startling news came to the capital Tuesday evening in the shape of a telegram from President Figueroa to the Salvadorean minister to Mexico, Manuel Delgado. The minister was soon closeted with President Diaz.

The Nicaraguans, on board the gunboat Momotombo, bombarded the fort and then landed troops. The town is now in the hands of the Nicaraguan general Manuel Rivas. Intense excitement prevails. It is believed the objective point of the expedition is the port of San Jose de Guatemala and that President Zelaya of Nicaragua has declared war against Guatemala.

Washington, June 12.—At the Mexican embassy and the legations of Nicaragua and Guatemala surprise was expressed at the news of the renewal of hostilities in Central America. No official advices had reached them up to a late hour Tuesday night.

The Sharples Separator...

The Sharples Tubular Cream Separator will give you an increase in cream of about 50 per cent. over pan setting; 33 per cent. over cans set in cold water; 25 per cent. over patent creamers and dilution cans.

The butter will be greatly improved. The Tubular Separator removes all impurities from the milk and cream.

Calves do better on warm, sweet, skimmed milk, fresh from the separator, than on whole milk, or skimmed milk, which has stood twelve to twenty-four hours; oil meat is ten times as cheap and is just as good—and butter fat is worth money.

It is much easier to skim the milk during, or immediately after, milking, thus saving handling, storage room and the washing of many crocks, pans or cans.

Tubular Separators pay so well that those who have purchased them say the machine has paid for itself in from two months to one year.
